The image displays a drum score for the piece "Peerie Hoose Ahint the Burn" by Maurice Calis. The score is written for Snare and Bass in 2/4 time. It consists of four systems of music. The first system shows the initial rhythmic patterns for both instruments, with a 7-measure rest for the snare at the beginning. The second system continues the patterns, featuring a 3-measure rest for the snare. The third system includes a 6-measure rest for the snare and two 5-measure rests for the bass. The fourth system concludes with a 10-measure rest for the snare and a 3-measure rest for the bass. The score uses various rhythmic notations, including eighth and sixteenth notes, rests, and multi-measure rests, along with dynamic markings like accents (>) and slurs.
